Program & Construction Management

Keep projects on time and budget.

ACTIONS WITH PURPOSE, RESULTS THAT MATTER.

Introduction

Construction projects are complex, involve a myriad of stakeholders, and require careful and comprehensive oversight of materials and risk management, scheduling, budgets, and more. The inability to accurately manage and execute every aspect of a construction program can lead to schedule and cost overruns, lack of quality assurance, and even legal action.

Project managers need complete visibility into their construction processes and the ability to coordinate and communicate with key stakeholders every step of the way. Internal teams have too many responsibilities to handle on their own.

They need the help of expert consultants who provide comprehensive programs and construction management services that keep projects on time and budget while minimizing risks and maintaining high-quality standards.

Acuity International's Program and Construction Management services provide multidisciplinary oversight, leadership, and visibility for construction projects of all sizes. Our team of experts helps you streamline projects, proactively manage risks, and ensure alignment with budgets, schedules, designs, and specifications. We manage the entire process from start to finish, ensuring high-quality outcomes every time.

The Acuity Advantage

Acuity International has more than 30 years of experience managing complex construction projects. We have a proven track record of successful project delivery across many industries and have successfully managed over 500 projects.

Our certified project management experts deliver customized solutions to meet your unique needs. Our team provides expertise in cost estimation, scheduling, risk management, and project controls. We offer expert oversight, leadership, and visibility across every phase of the construction process.

We combine business acumen with advanced and proven methodologies and technologies to improve your project's visibility and efficiency. We are experts in industry-standard scheduling techniques like the Critical Path Method (CPM), Program Evaluation and Review Technique (PERT), and project control methodologies like Earned Value Management.

With Acuity, you can rest assured that your project will be delivered on schedule and on budget, regardless of its size and complexity.

Our Services

Program Management and Procurement

Construction projects are enormously complex and require careful coordination among many stakeholders and vendors. Acuity's program management and procurement services streamline and synchronize all project elements, so your team doesn't have to.

Budget Estimation and Management

Without the proper controls, complex construction projects can quickly run over budget. Acuity provides accurate cost estimating and scheduling to ensure finances stay on track, regardless of the project's size or complexity.

Schedule Management

Scheduling delays can increase costs, client dissatisfaction, and legal and regulatory risks. To ensure on-time project completion, Acuity provides effective planning and scheduling strategies, including the Critical Path Method, Earned Value Management, and the Program Evaluation and Review Technique.

Risk Management

Construction projects pose financial, legal, environmental, and safety risks. Acuity's risk management services mitigate potential issues that could impact project scope, schedule, or budget. We minimize disruption and remove barriers to success.
